The teaching was exceptional. It might have been nice for the argument reconstructions to be graded faster, but I understand that this is difficult given almost everyone turns them in at once at the end of the semester.

Please provide your thoughts on the course as a whole, including strengths and areas for possible improvement.

The course was great. I liked how we discussed topics other than pure logic-related stuff, like problems with peer review, piracy, etc.

Dr. Mariscal is a model professor. He understands his role is to make information accessible to students, and does a good job of it. His lectures are informational and his style entertaining. Leads to people actually engaging.

Please provide your thoughts on the course as a whole, including strengths and areas for possible improvement.

Intro to Phil Sci is a great course. The books are good surveys with historical contextualization. Might mostly just be Dr. Mariscal though. Cannot say enough good things about him.
